CANUCKS MADE ONE RUN

Senators Nearly Blanked Arthur Irwin's Canadians.

CAPT. BROWN WAS INJURED

In Running to First Base Tom Struck McGann and Suffered a Sprain of the Left Leg-The Big Leaguers Scored Heavily in the Fifth Inning.

Arthur Irwin and his sprightly tribe of Canucks from Toronto engaged the Senators yesterday afternoon, and gave the big Leaguers plenty of exercise if they didn't accomplish anything else.

Arthur has a lively bunch of yanigans and they are liable to create a lot of trouble other aspirants for the Eastern League flag-

The game was a close affair until the sixth inning, when the Senators put on steam and piled up five runs, giving them a total of seven, which was not increased The Canneks earned a run in the opening ning on a three-bagger by McHale and McGann's single to center. The contest was of the one, two, three order, and was the quickest played of the preliminary season.

In the second, Capt. Brown was put on the hospital list. After Cartwright had made a bingle to left center, Tom dumped the ball very scientifically toward third and flew down to first with the speed for which he is famous. In going into the base, big McGann attempted to field the assist of Pitcher Dincen, and Tom struck either McGann's knee or elbow—nobody knows which and fell like a log on the fool line. His fellow-players rhshed to his aid, and assisted him from the field. The injury was painful, but not serious, though it will keep the popular captain out of the game for the next few days. The blow was received on the leftleg just above the knee, and while in a different place, it came about in a similar manner to the collision between Cartwright and First Baseman Decker, of the Chicagos, last the game for the balance of the year. Like the majority of accidents in baseball, nobody was to blame. Abbey succeeded Brown in center, and played the steady game of which he is capable. DeMontreville, after doing "pennce," was reinstalled at short. Gene celebrated his restitution by accepting ten chances without the semblance of error, and in the fifth pushed out a beauty bright season, which resulted in a broken wrist for Decker and enforced his retirement from single to center. McJames, Mercer, and Ashe pitched the nine innings, and McGuire and Farrell did the receiving.

The Torontos have only had a few days' practice and were hardly expected to give the Senators a hard run. Manager Irwin has every reason to congratulate himself on his selections for the season, and if he can "borrow" Wrigley from Mr. Wagner he will have an aggregation strong enough to make a bruising finish in the Eastern League race. And Arthur is that sort of a talker to make Mr. Wagner yield and loan him "Zeke". But if Wrigley goes there will be a string on him and he will be jerked back whenever his presence is thought necessary. The cold weather and the Pitzsimmons parade had a perceptible effect on the attendance. The same teams will play this afternoon, and as it will be ladies' day no doubt a large audience will gather at the park. The score.

Princeton, N. J., April 12, -"Lady" Jayne Princeton's substitute pitcher, covered himself with glory this afternoon by holding the Boston team down to five hits and three runs in their annual game with the Tigers. The Boston players were taken en tirely unawares by the college boys' strong fielding game and Jayne made monkeys of their heavy hitters. Up to the eighth inning the league players secured only two hits off the Princeton twirler.

AL MAUL'S PROPOSITION.

The Pitcher With a "Salary Arm" Banters Mr. Wagner. Yesterday while the game between the ators and the Canucks was in progress Mr. Wagner and Al Maul, who were sitting in the press hox, became involved in a colloquy over the salary question. The "sliding contract," with which the fans are perfectly familiar, was discussed, and during the passage of words, all spoken in-good nature and in the best of temper, be-tween the pitcher and magnate, Maulmade the following proposition to J. Earl: Said Al. "I will bet you, Mr. Wagner, $500 to $250 that I can go in this season and win as many games as any pitcher on your list, that is counting the percentage of times I face opposing teams. And, furthermore, I will take my regular turn with

wright's leg Mr Wagner declined the bet, but told the smaling twirler that he would give alnest any amount to become satisfied that "Don't worry about that," said Maul, coffer me a reasonable contract, and if I don't pitch good ball release me without a cent of pay."

Under the surface Mr. Wagner was "tickled to death" over Maul's confi-dence in himself, and it is sure that a satisfactory contract will be drawn up and signed by both parties within the next at the park yesterday morning, and developed so much speed toward the close that Manager Schmelz had to beg him to desist. Al was putting the ball across the plate like streaks of lightning, and Jim McGuire's glove was steaming when Gus made Al go to the dressing room

NATIONAL LEAGUE MAGNATES. They Will Give Pitcher Rusie's Case

Consideration Today. New York, April 12.-President Young and his colleagues of the National League will meet at the Fifth Avenue Hotel tomorrow, when Rusie's case will be called and an effort made to bring him back to New York Several magnates admitted today that a majority of the clubs had reached an agreement, and that Rusie had expressed a willingness to accept the terms and to sign a contract as soon as he should receive the word. The New York Club sent a contract to Rusic several menths ago calling for $2,400 in salary, which does not begin to run until Thursday, when all league contracts go into effect. In other words if the league clubs make up a purse and pay over $3,000 to Rusie, he will sien and report for duty. There may be something in the story that after he has formally signed with New York he will be traded to the Philadelphia Club for Pitcher Taylor and Catcher Clements, a deal which has been talked of for some time.

FREE LIST SUSPENDED.

No More Ladies' Tickets Will Be Issued for National Park. Mr. J. Earl Wagner desires The Times to

National Paseball Park, April 12.—Owing to the great number of passes that have been issued to the ladies of Washington granting them free entry to the park and grandstand for Tuesdays and Fridays while the club's at home. I find that the capacity of the grandstand will be tested and made to overflow, and for this reason I give tickets will be issued. J. EARL WAGNER,

Treasurer, Washington Baseball Club,

Future Champions.

The Selbachs defeated the Mile Limits Sunday afternoon by the score of 22 to 15. It was an interesting game, and abounded in numerous fine plays. The feature of the game was the home run hit of L. Vogelsburger, and the battery work bachs are open for games, and challenges No. 301 Ehn street northwest. The Manhattans have organized for the eason, with the following players: B. Burdette, s. s.; D. O'Brien, c. f.; I. Hellands, r. f.; E. Durphey, l. f.; G. Shedd, p.; J. Underwood, 2b.; C. Chism, c.; T. Brick, 3b., and W. Dove, 1b. The team would like to arrange games with other nines, whose players are nineteen years of age and 2132 Pennsylvania avenue, or E. Durphey 821 Eleventh street northwest DIAMOND DUST.

Capt. McCarthy will probably divide to orrow's game op between pitchers Bach and Clancy, giving the latter the shorter number of innings, and then putting him on Thursday with Walsh, to win the game from Yale. The "rooters" of Georgetown, all strong lunged youngsters from the student body.

have been practicing various college yells and choroses, which they will spring on the spectators and players during the Lehigh and Yale games. Musical "rooting" is a great feature of all games on Georgetown Field. Georgetown 'Varsity team has not le up in its practice since its splendid victory over Lafayette on Saturday, but to the contrary, has worked harder than ever to per-feet its team work, and when the big Le high nine comes on Georgetown Field to morrow it will find a team strong-individ ually and collectively. One ready and capable to add another victory to its un broken string of college conquests. The Lehighs have been playing a very strong game since they left their own dia-mond, and will probably prove to be the strongest competitors the Georgetown players have lined up against so far this season in college nines. Capt, McCarthy is gaining strength each day, and will more than likely play in tomorrow's game. and on account of the strength of the team of visitors feels the necessity for getting back in his old place.

Batteries-Seymour and Sanders, and The New Champion Had a Big Reception Yesterday.

THE SHOW AT CENTER MARKET

The Kangaroo Gave a Pretty Exhibition of Bag-Ponching, and Wound Up by Reproducing the Blows That Settled Peter Maher, Saflor Sharkey, and Jim Corbett.

Champion "Pob" Fitzsimmons reached Washington on his triumphal tour at 5:50 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was ac corded an enthusiastic reception by thousands of admirers, who gathered at the station to meet him.

In the party with Fitz were Mrs. Fitzsimmons, Baby "Lob," in the arms of his nurse: Dan Hickey, Ernest Rocher and J. H. Shoemaker, the champion's trainers, and last, but not least, Fitz's famous dogs Leo, the St. Bernard, and Yarrum, the great Dane.

They were met at the depot by Martin Julian and Manager Whitesell. Fitz, attired in a silk hat and a neatly fitting frock suit, was the first to alight, the rest of the party following.

They were quickly conducted to the conveyances which were in waiting. Fitzmons, his wife, and Julian were placed in the first landau, which was drawn by four borses. In the next carriage were 'Baby'' Fitzsimmons, his nurse, and Dan Hickey. Next came Ernest Roeber and Manager Whitesell. The two degs and Shoemaker brought up the rear. The procession moved up the Avenu hended by a band. All along the Avenua to the Riggs House, where the party are stopping, the pave-ments were lined with speciators, who loudly cheered the victorious fighter. To each ovation the champion responded by doffing his hat. When the Riggs was reached the carriages were driven around to the ladies' entrance, and Fitzsummons and his wife, alighting quickly, went to their rooms. The rest of the party lingered around the lobby

Fitzshumons remained in his rooms, and was not seen again until the time came to start for the hall

Center Market Hall was filled last night by admirers of the kangaroo champlon Many ladies were in the crowd. A very poor vandeville performance preceded the appearance of the champion.

Fitz gave a clever exhibition of bag-ng, and wound up with Dan Hickey, showing how he knocked out Maher, Sharkey and Corbett The audience was not at all enthusiastically demonstrative, and on the whole it was a tame affair. The champion was in fine form and in a splendid humor, and did his best to amuse and entertain the authence. Jolian was master of ceremonies, and performed his part well. In fact, Julian and Fitz were the "whole thing" and for-nished the only satisfaction for the admission money. The first part of the program was very much aged eggs and could have been dispensed with without annoyance to the ticketholders.

Manager Whitesell hardly pulled out even on his speculation, but he deserve praise for his industry and enterprise in securing the attraction for Washington, and if it was a financial failure the reflection is on the sporting element of the city and not on him. Fitz was parauleed $1,500, and theother expenses ran the amount up to $2,000. The hall did not look to contain that much money last night. The champion and his party will re-main in the city until this morning at 10 o'clock and then go to New York." Fitz said last night that owing to the recent death of his wife's mother he would not show in the Metropolis this week, but would spend the time quietly, as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased lady. Next week the tour will be resumed; opening at Philadelphia, then to Pittaburg, back to Beocklyn, and follow indefinite engagement in New Intalking with The Times representative in his dressing room last night, Fitzsin. mons said he would pay no attention to Corbett. And Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who is a very handsome woman of the brunette type, chimed in, "decidedly not." The new champion seems to be a jovial, good natured fellow, and wears his honors very modestly. He is in perfect physical cor dition, and could enter the ring for a finish fight on a day's notice. RAEDY-HALEY MILL TONIGHT.

The Local Champton Will Fight the Cincinnation Twenty Rounds. The twenty-round fight between Pat Raedy, of this city, and Patsy Baley, of Cincinnati, which will take place before the Young Men's Club tonight on the Bladensburg road, has aroused the interest of local sports to the highest pitch. It will be a clever and exciting contest, as is assured by the abilities of the men en-

Raedy's record of victories is a long one A few of the men he has met recently are Jersey Gorden, Tom Burns, Dick Moore and Tommy Ryan. Patsey Haley, Raedy's opponent, is not so well known in this section of the country. He halls from Cincinnati, Ohio, and has met and defeated all the middle and heavy weights in and around the Queen City. His victories in the ring stamp him as a dangerous opponent for any man at his weight. His thirty-eight round draw with Dick Moore n New York surprised the Gotham sports. Haley also fought Tommy Ryan twenty three rounds to a draw. He received $50 from "Denver" Ed Smith, who failed to stop him in four rounds.

Haley stands 5 feet 8 inches and his fighting weight is 158 pounds. He began fighting when he was eighteen years old and has forty-two battles to his credit, and has never suffered defeat but once. Some of his notable battles are as follows: Bill Dunn, four rounds; Fred Morris, Mul doon's "Cyclone," sixteen rounds; 'Sailor' Brown, nine rounds; Chuck Connors, two rounds; Jack Costello, five rounds; Tom-my West, fifteen rounds; Con Doyle, nineteen rounds; Joe Walcott, four rounds Patsy Purtell, twenty rounds; Dick Moore, thirty-eight rounds; "Temmy Ryan, twen-ty-three rounds; "Denver" Ed Smith, four

Duke (after a still more awkward pause during which his grace appears to have entertained doubts as to whether he had as yet been sufficiently indentified)-Er--it might interest the president to know that I was a viceroy. Kruger-Eh! What's that-a viceroy? Duke-Oh, a viceroy-that is a sort of a king, you know. Kruger continued puffing in silcuce for some moments, obviously weary of this form of conversation. Then, turning to the interpreter, he said, gruffly: "Tel-the Englishman that I was a cattle herder." This closed the interview. - Youth's Com-The Judge's Mistake.

A judge on the Pacific coast, noted for his tendency to explain things to his juries, expressed in a recent case his own idea with such force that he thought it almost unnecessary for the jurors to leave the box. They did leave it, however, and were out Inquiring the trouble, the judge was told one of the twelve was standing out against the eleven. He summoned the jury and rebuked the recalcitrant sharply.
